1. Launching sites for guided missiles are being constructed by Sovromconstructie on the high plain between Mounts Caraiman and Omul, in the Bucegi range (South Carpathians). The altitude of the plain is about 2,300 meters. The plain is invisible from all surrounding communities, the only access is by mountain paths or telpher span from Busteni. All construction material is brought in by telpher.
2. Three launching sites are being constructed. According to engineer's drawings which were [REDACTED] these launching sites are directed as follows:
  - a. Toward Yugoslavia
  - b. South, toward Turkey
  - c. West, toward Austria
3. All access to the Bucegi Mountains has been prohibited for 14 months, except to personnel engaged in the guided missile project.
